

$7800 Permits Issued In Venice

Permits for construction valued at an aggregate of $7800 were issued during January in Venice, records of City Comptroller Carl E. Byrnes showed today.

Anthony DiVietro obtained a $4000 permit on extending a garage into a 30x70-foot area at Broadway and Mack streets. The garage is brick with a concrete foundation.

Georgia Sands, 1004 Logan street, plans an 8x14-foot garage extension and new siding at a cost of $2000, while Harry Wilcox Jr., 208 Cranville street, will build a concrete block garage costing $1000.

Louis Pitter obtained a permit for an 8x12-foot addition and repair project costing $800 at 1124 Market street. The McKinley family, 1100 Douglas street, received a permit for a frame one-room addition with concrete foundation to house a cafe at Weaver and Jackson streets. Cost of the addition was not estimated.

Polio Victim To Return Home Following Surgery

Nancy Jane Reutzel, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reutzel, 1617 Pontoon road, who has just undergone two operations to offset the effects of a polio attack in 1953, is expected to return home in six to eight weeks from the Shriners' Crippled Children's Hospital in St. Louis. Muscular and spinal surgery was conducted in December and January, and the girl again will be placed in a cast over her entire body in several weeks. It is expected that she will remain at home for at least a year before further surgery takes place. Stricken with three types of polio simultaneously while an infant, she has been a pupil at Nameoki grade school and has studied at the Shriners Hospital since entering there Nov. 11.

Engineer Depot soldiers aided the family in supplying blood donors for the last operation due to a blood shortage still existing at the Shriners hospital, Mrs. Reutzel reported. Unusually high standards are followed there on donors' present health and types of past illnesses, limiting the number of potential donors, she added, but her family is urging people to give blood in the interest of other children scheduled for surgery.

Assessors Set Date For Tax Change Parley

A conference of area state legislators and a six-man county assessor committee is set for the week of Feb. 12 at Springfield for discussion of tax assessment changes.

The meeting, postponed from Jan. 15, is aimed at pointing out public sentiment on abolishment of household furniture and tax assessment and on provisions for tax relief for the aged.

Von Dee Cruse, a member of the committee, said that since the General Assembly is considering making changes in the state revenue article, the proposal may win approval.

Petitions with more than 1000 signatures will be presented by Cruse, as a basis of showing public favor.

Resolutions were passed last month by county assessors in the annual meeting at the court house in Edwardsville to urge legislators to draft a bill to overrule the proposals.

Hearings This Weekend For 2 Teenage Girls

Hearings will be held Friday or Saturday for two teenage girls who were arrested at a tavern at 21st and Adams street shortly after 1 a.m. last Sunday. Both girls face charges of curfew violation and creating a disturbance, and an additional charge of drunkenness placed against Janet Flicker, 16, of 702 Twenty-seventh place. The other girl, Frances Smith, 17, of 2637 Nameoki drive, faces an added charge of using profane language. Both were released to their parents. Police Chief Raymond Wiljaredt said the charges also are under study by the mayor and city attorney.

Traffic Arrest

A charge of careless driving was placed against Jerry A. Hall, 19, of 608 Kirkpatrick Homes, who was arrested at Madison avenue and Nameoki road Tuesday night by Granite City police. He was freed after posting his driver's license as bond for a hearing tomorrow before Police Magistrate Caspary.

Hoelscher Honored For 25 Years' Service With YMCA

Over 100 persons who have been associated with G. W. "Gus" Hoelscher during his 25 years as president of the YMCA board of directors attended a dinner in Hoelscher's honor Monday night at the YMCA.

Hoelscher, who will step down as board president on Feb. 27, was presented with a desk clock and pen set by master of ceremonies J. W. "Pop" Senef, on behalf of those attending the banquet.

Senef reviewed Hoelscher's life from early boyhood in West Granite to the present, and also presented a history of the development of the YMCA, including an extensive remodeling project completed in 1957.

During the program, several congratulatory telegrams received from persons unable to attend the banquet were read by Senef to Hoelscher and read by Senef to those present.

Hoelscher summed up his feelings in a 10-minute address in which he said he felt that participating in civic betterment projects is "the rent one pays for being allowed to live in a community."

He also stated that although he is giving up the YMCA board presidency this month, he hopes to remain an active member of that body, "continuing to contribute what I can."

Hoelscher, Senef and their wives were seated at the head banquet table. Among out-of-town guests who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grigby and Mr. and Mrs. George T. Wilkins.

Wilkins is state superintendent of public instruction; Grigby, now associated with Central College at Fayette, Mo., was Granite City superintendent of schools during the time Hoelscher served as president of the Granite City high school board.

MORE ABOUT Adult Guards Recommended

Inclement weather, but the hazard created by these parked automobiles is far greater than any weather hazard.

"It also is recommended that parking be prohibited within 30 feet of any marked crosswalk."

Experts Comments
 In presenting the survey report and recommendations Monday night Keesling stated:

"One of the most pressing and controversial problems with which traffic engineering and enforcement agencies are faced concerns the safety of children on their way to and from school. A death, injury, near miss, or even the thought of a hazard to a school child can often set up a chain reaction of events that can be tremendous by explosive."

"One of the paramount concerns of all parents at school time is the welfare of their children. Although this concern often seems to wane during vacation time when their children may actually experience more hazards from traffic, a different attitude takes place just before school starts and continues throughout the school term."

"In order to get protection for their children, sincere parents will: harass public and school officials, call mass meetings circulate lengthy petitions, link arms in human chains across the street to stop traffic, seek aid from state and national legislators; waste countless hours of public officials' often forget to be gentlemen and ladies when arguing their point; and usually end up by storming the city council chambers en masse. Usually this results in strained public relations, another unwarranted control to harass the motorist, and additional, needless expense to the taxpayer."

Concern At All Times
 "The lot of the traffic engineer and police officials is not an easy one when it comes to school traffic safety. These officials are greatly concerned over the safety of children at all times. They genuinely try to adhere to what they believe to be reasonable and proper. They know that whatever they do will establish a precedent that will be used again and again to demand a similar treatment in another area. On the other hand, they cannot help but sympathize with the fear of the parents. They may even have fears of their own that they may be wrong and are not doing enough. It often becomes an almost overwhelming temptation to accede to the demands of the parents.

"How can the school traffic safety problem be best handled with a minimum of friction and with a maximum of relief to the parent?" In the past, numerous fine articles have been published on school traffic safety by authorities from traffic engineering, enforcement, educational and other organizations throughout the nation. These publications have the answer to most of the problems.

"The only need is to consolidate the thinking into uniform policies, warrant, standards and procedures that will be accepted and utilized by educational, engineering, enforcement, parent-teacher, and other organizations in a well planned, well coordinated school safety program."

The policies, warrants, standards and procedures contained in this report are an attempt to develop such a consolidation of professional thinking. Committee 3-B of the I.T.E. Research Council has worked for numerous years in the collection and analysis of material dealing with the school safety problem.

"In general, this report has been reviewed by authorities in the traffic engineering, enforcement, educational and public safety work. Their analyses and suggestions have resulted in a set of 'working tools' that should be generally acceptable to most agencies concerned with the school safety problem. In a number of instances, the policies, warrants, standards and procedures have been thoroughly tested and have been found to be practical."

Official Coordinating Committee
 "An official coordinating committee on school traffic should be organized. This committee should be composed of governmental and school board officials who have the authority to get things done. The traffic engineer, the chief of the police traffic division and representatives from both the public and parochial schools should be official members. The manager of the local safety council, the presidents of the parochial and public school parent-teacher organizations, and representatives of other interested organizations should serve on the committee in an advisory capacity.

The duties of the coordinating committee should be to guide and coordinate all activities connected with the school safety program. This would include the following: establish policies and procedures; review and approve the various phases of the school safety program; review and handle complaints and requests; establish priorities on projects; promote good public relations; and take immediate action to correct emergency school problems.

The School Route Plan

"A school route plan should be developed for each public and parochial school district serving elementary and kindergarten students. The plan should consist of a simple map showing streets, the school, existing traffic controls and the school routes to be used by children marked with arrows. The reverse side of the map should be used for instructions on the use of the map and for other instructions in traffic safety. Provision should be made for the signatures of parents as an indication they have instructed the child on the use of the map. The school route maps should be of a size that is easily reproducible and should be made available to every child."

The school route plan should be designed to provide a maximum of protection for the children at a minimum of cost to the taxpayer. School routes should be planned to take advantage of the protection afforded by existing traffic controls. If feasible, school boundaries should be revised where only a few children are required to cross hazardous crossings this eliminating costly controls. Children must occasionally be required to walk longer distances to avoid hazardous crossings and to make use of existing traffic controls. The coordinating committee should adopt a policy as to the maximum additional distance a child should be required to walk under such conditions.

"School principals, parents, teachers, the press and the public in general should be acquainted with the school traffic safety program. The coordinating committee should organize meetings, demonstrations, etc., for the purpose and value of the school route plan; the methods and theory behind the planning of the school routes; the procedure to be used in processing complaints and requests; and to answer questions or receive suggestions."

Scope Of Survey

"A traffic engineering study has been made at each school crossing where a school route crosses a major roadway to analyze the need for special traffic controls. Field studies have determined the degree of hazard at the crossing based on: the number of children using the crossing, the delay to children due to the lack of adequate gaps in traffic for safe crossing maneuvers; the width of the roadway; traffic speeds; and the unusual characteristics of the location that contribute to the hazard. Priorities for projects should be assigned in accordance with the severity of conditions indicated by this survey."

"Special precautions should be taken in those areas where extreme fog conditions create hazards for school children. The schools should adopt a policy whereby children would be released from school during periods when dense fog creates hazards, at street or highway crossings all along the school routes. An alternate solution would be a requirement that an adult accompany children to and from the school."

Field Checks Necessary

"Expert field checks should be made along school routes to determine whether they are being properly used. This activity could be adopted as an annual safety project for parent-teacher organizations. Volunteer mothers could occasionally walk the school routes for the purpose of recording and reporting such conditions as: unsafe activities of school children; failure to use the routes; improper driving practices of parents; the need for enforcement to deter speeding; need of maintenance to reduce hazard such as cutting of weeds or trimming of trees that obscure vision; repainting of pavement markings, etc. The coordinating committee should take prompt action toward correcting conditions reported from such surveys."

"The school route plan should be reviewed each year to determine the need for revision. The coordinating committee should review the school route plan between school years so that any necessary revisions may be made before school starts. Such revisions may be necessary because of new schools, changes in school district boundaries, changes in highway or traffic patterns, installation of new controls, etc."

Mothers' March Yields 'New Dimes' Drive $3000

More than $3000 was added to the "New March of Dimes" fund Tuesday when 800 volunteers in Granite City, Madison and Mitchell raised doorbells in the Mothers' March against crippling diseases.

Mrs. Roberta Lambert, campaign director, said virtually every home in the three communities was contacted and that "residents were very cooperative in giving."

The march brought to a virtual end the month-long drive, with one more effort being planned—a "coffee day" tomorrow.

The house-to-house drive was termed "very successful by Mrs. Lambert, who said that "despite the high unemployment factors which exist, we were able to top last year's march total."

Adding to the success was the pleasant weather condition. Although the streets were somewhat slippery from thawing ice and snow, temperatures hovered around the 40-degree mark.

Total Now $3000
The march collections bring the present unofficial campaign total to more than $3000. However, money from more than 15000 coin containers contributed in Granite City, Madison and Mitchell parochial and public schools is not included.

Official tabulations on the cards are expected to be given next week sometime, Mrs. Lambert said.

Money from the drive will go toward research and patient care of children afflicted with birth defects and crippling diseases.

Madison Continues
Collections from containers at Madison business places will be tabulated Tuesday, with $151 received. The cards were distributed and picked up by members of the Boy Scout Troop 351 and 90, of Madison.

Alderman Samuel Whitmer, chairman of the Madison City Alley committee, read the proposal submitted by Indiana Guntie Co. Constructors, Inc., omitting the unit price figure. It pointed out that 700 feet could be cleaned in 30 days or less, provided the City cleaned the sewer in advance.

Opposition was voiced by Alderman Rufus LeMaster, who said he had worked on several such sewer relining projects at the Venice power plant several years ago and the process proved unsuccessful.

He was told by Engineer Pearce that the system has been improved in recent years and has proven successful in other communities.

Mayor Davis added that the state highway department, which has halted the 20th street improvement project, fearing a cave-in, would be relieved if the sewer line is repaired by the granite system.

Method Of Repair
The repairs call for deteriorated sections to be replaced completely and the entire 1630 feet of the sewer to be relined with a two-inch layer of concrete-cement, applied under pressure.

The decision to seek proposals from other firms was reached after Sup't. of Streets William Warfield said it would take at least 10 days for him to get equipment to clean the sewer line. He said the equipment would cost about $1000.

Alderman Arthur Wierzer pointed out the same line had been cleaned about a year ago, and suggested the controller go through city records and determine if it would be cheaper to hire the cleaning project done or buy new equipment for the city to do the work.

Council members voted to authorize the hiring of a sewer cleaner, should the process be cheaper. However, also included in the motion was permission for Warfield to go ahead and buy the equipment in the event a city project would be available.

which Michael Sikora and William Vaughn are accountants.

The teenage "roadblock" held last Saturday at intersections in Granite City netted the drive $203.

Eighteen students of Granite City high school, in cooperation with the local department, participated in the effort, sponsored by the Letterman family.

Funds collected last Friday by the Catholic Youth Organization totaled $70. Twenty-two youth took part in the drive, held at banks and loan institutions.

Moore Club Nets $699
Clarence Meyers, chairman of the Civic Affairs committee of the Moore Lodge 271, in a preliminary report said that to date, more than $600 has been collected from drives sponsored by the group.

The "picknet" drive has yielded about $175 and the remaining amount is from proceeds of a benefit dance held last Saturday and incomplete collections of coin containers at Granite City and Mitchell business places.

Total figures will not be available until next week, he said. Final fund raising efforts will be made tomorrow when six restaurant owners will donate coffee and patrons will be asked to drop the regular price of the cup of coffee into a container, instead of paying for the coffee day.

The arrangements for the final day's drive were made by members of the Total Psi sorority chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, Mrs. Harold Duckworth is chairman of the drive.

Restaurants which will operate will be the Grand Cafe, Petri Cafe, Rose Bowl, Glass Doll, Reese Drug Store at Bell Village, and Tony's Drive-In.

Local Optimists Plan For Dedication

Members of the three local Optimist Clubs are planning to participate in dedication ceremonies to be held for Optimist International's new headquarters building under construction in St. Louis and scheduled for completion late this year.

The Spartans and Anderson Tire also picked up wins in Teenage play. The Spartans upended Phil Spencer Studio 70-63 as four players hit in double figures for the winners, and Anderson Tire hung on in the last quarter to edge Balance Barber Shop 39-37.

Harry Neuling dropped in 27 points for Teen Town, which now has a four-game lead over the Spartans and Anderson Tire, defeated in second place. Dave Zeffert added 11 points. John Allen was high for the Trojans with nine points.

Jerry Weiss scored 21 points, Tom Ferguson 18, Steve Schardan 12 and Lonnie Kingston 11, all for the Spartans in their win over Spencer. The losers got 19 points from Al Lewis and 14 from Bob Suddan.

The top score for victorious Anderson Tire was Dave Moss with 16 points. Don Dillard followed with 15, while Larry Druhe hit 13 and Don St. Clair 12 for the Barbors.

Method Of Repair
The repairs call for deteriorated sections to be replaced completely and the entire 1630 feet of the sewer to be relined with a two-inch layer of concrete-cement, applied under pressure.

The decision to seek proposals from other firms was reached after Sup't. of Streets William Warfield said it would take at least 10 days for him to get equipment to clean the sewer line. He said the equipment would cost about $1000.

Alderman Arthur Wierzer pointed out the same line had been cleaned about a year ago, and suggested the controller go through city records and determine if it would be cheaper to hire the cleaning project done or buy new equipment for the city to do the work.

Council members voted to authorize the hiring of a sewer cleaner, should the process be cheaper. However, also included in the motion was permission for Warfield to go ahead and buy the equipment in the event a city project would be available.

Warfield explained he could work "a block ahead of the repair crew," and he estimated that by working a double shift a block could be cleaned in three days.

During the 90-minute discussion, it was brought out the relining would not materially hamper flow in the sewer line which is to be converted to a sanitary line only should the city proceed with its proposed master drainage program.

Alderman Casner Skubish said he was surprised that Granite City Steel would not share the cost of the repair job. He pointed out that the firm has dumped much acid into the line over a period of years.

When asked Mrs. Gabrielle Bettine on what grounds the council had asked the steel firm to join in the project, Mayor Davis explained the motion was made last week.

"Actually, we had no grounds. They use the sewers like any

Trojans Trounce Jerseyville 89-68 For 9th Straight, But Kahoks Loom

Madison high school's Trojans, resembling a swarm of busy bumble bees, harrassed a good Jerseyville team Tuesday night on the winner's court, 89-68.

The Trojans, who seem to be attracted to their own basket with about as much intensity as bees are to honey, won their ninth straight victory and the 13th in 16 games during the current campaign.

And like bees, the Trojans are diligent workers. Their floor game was erratic Tuesday, but continued application of a pressing defense and a wide-open style of play finally forced the Panthers to play "run and shoot" in opposition to the control game as proposed by Coach George Havens.

Panthers Led Only Once
Madison jumped to a 22-13 first-quarter lead, but the Panthers rebounded to 40-37 by halftime and grabbed the only lead they managed all evening.

Warren Anderson and Heide Egelhoff hit quick buckets in the opening seconds of the third quarter.

The Trojans, a bit lethargic during the first half, were stung into action and hit nine quick points to move ahead 49-42, and a serious Jerseyville threat did not develop afterwards.

Ed Walker, who scored 17 of his 24 points in the second half, sparked another quick point.

plurage in the final period. Madison strung eight markers before Marion Phlips dumped in a free throw for the Panthers, and then held the visitors scoreless while adding 10 more to take a commanding 85-64 lead.

Jerseyville could manage only one field goal in the final five minutes of play as Madison rolled to its biggest quarter of the evening—26 points.

The Trojans' 88-point total was a high water mark for Earl McClanahan's squad this season. A well-balanced offense, with Walker, Don Freeman, Dan Hrysko and Ken Griggs combining talents for 80 points between them, was responsible.

Freeman was a first-half standout with 10 points as the Panthers double-teamed Walker and screening him off the boards effectively. When Jerseyville switched to a 1-3-1 zone in the second half, Walker found shooting and rebounding room while Griggs and Hrysko worked well together outside, screening for Phlips behind the key.

For most of the game, Havens kept his big men, Phlips, Jim Chandler and Egelhoff, in an attempt to pull Madison's rebounding strength out from under him. The Trojans used a sinking man-to-man defense and out did the Panthers in rebounding.

Inability to hit on free throw opportunities hurt the Panthers. They converted 22 in a rough

Devils Score

50 In Last-Half Rally.

Lose 75-72

The Venice Red Devils blazed the net for 50 big markers in the final half, but lack of free throw accuracy left them on the short end of a 75-72 decision against Wesche Tuesday in an MBC conference battle before home fans.

Coming on strong in the last six big halves, the inspired lead of Coach Zahn Wells hit for a torrid 52% field goal average during the last 16 minutes in dumping in 23 of 37 shots attempted.

Miss Key Free Throws

But key charity toss misses in the final seconds cost them the game. Wesche won 75-72.

Down 14 points at halftime, the red-jerseyed quintet caught their when a 18-lateral attack was launched in the third period by John Koelker, Larry Gray and John Corrie.

Gray, who accounted for 24 of his team's total points, had begun to switch the nets with accuracy. And when he was not sinking a field goal, he was passing to others who scored.

Koelker Tops With 25

Koelker dropped in 25 markers in the game and Corrie flipped in 19 points.

Venice had closed the gap in a 26-point third quarter and appeared to be on its way to victory early in the fourth period after trailing 54-48 at the quarter.

A sustained attack in the final quarter put Venice into a tie with one minute to go, but the Devils could not capitalize on enough free tosses.

Venice hit 14 of 25 free throws and Wesche made 17 of 27.

Devils Shoot 46%
The hot shooting in the last half, despite an icy mark in the first segment, added up to one of the best per-game field goal averages of the season for Venice, which made six of 26 in the first half. Overall mark was 46% on 29 of 63.

Wesche also took 63 attempts and dropped in 29 counters, for a like 46% mark. From the boards, Wesche captured 35 rebounds and Venice grabbed 33.

The contest was the second encounter of the season between the two teams. Wesche dominated the Devils 67-58 on Dec. 9.

The loss put the Venice circuit record at 1-9 and the overall record at 1-15.

Other scoring — Jim Eversold 2, William Shambo 1 and Daniel Mond 1.

Tomorrow night the squad will go to Warden for another conference game.

Kahoks Stay On Top

In Prep Game Ratings

Collinsville, the only major high school basketball team in the state which has yet to taste defeat this season, remained the top prep team in Illinois for the sixth straight week.

For the first time this season, sportswriters polled made the Kahoks a unanimous choice and gave no first-place votes to runner-up Centralla or any of the other prep teams which made the listings. The Southwestern conference school heads all state rankings this week.

The Kahoks also were named the top team in St. Louis area ratings again this week. Madison, ranked seventh in the area, meets Collinsville Saturday night.

HEART FUND CHAIRMAN of the Quad-Cities area, Alex Duccini, who will coordinate activities throughout the month.

Alex Duccini To Head Area Heart Fund Drive

Alex Duccini, 2604 East 27th street, was named chairman of the 1961 Heart Fund Campaign in the Quad-Cities area, it was announced by Dr. Benjamin Berman, chairman of the county drive.

The campaign began yesterday, and fund-raising efforts will reach the high point on Feb. 26 when volunteers will ring doorbells to solicit contributions.

Proceeds will go to support heart research in Illinois and aid scientists in clinics and university laboratories throughout the nation.

Research in the past 12 years, has been responsible for progress in finding new methods of diagnosis, treatment and prevention of heart trouble, Duccini pointed out.

Equipping of RC Cola Plant In Final Stages

Construction and equipping of the new Royal Crown Cola Co. manufacturing center on Route 674 is in the final stages, it was learned this week from Raburn Philips, manager. Contractor for the work is the Tom Studebaker Construction Co.

Initial equipment testing operations in the canning department are planned for late this month, with the flavor concentrate line being started later; initial employment will total about 11, increasing to some extent by summer.

Recent projects have included installation of a syrup tank and office windows, and workmen now are concentrating on the heating plant.

About equal emphasis is to be placed on two major phases of production — 12-ounce cans filled with soft drinks for shipment to an estimated 40 or 50 bottlers in the midwest, and gallon bottles containing flavor ingredients for shipment to bottlers in the western two-thirds of the United States.

Headquarters of the firm, which produces Royal Crown, Nehi, Par-T-Pak, Upper 10 and Diet-Rite beverages, are in Columbus, Ga.

In a progress report at the end of the 1960 calendar year, President W. H. Glenn commented, "The new decade ushered in this year has been termed the 'Soviet Sixties.' This decade promises to offer vast opportunities for progress for Royal Crown Cola Co."

One Of Two New Facilities
 To meet the ever-increasing demand for its products, the company has established two new manufacturing facilities in the United States. The first of these is a new canning plant opened in Auburn, Ala., on Aug. 22. From this plant, Royal Crown Cola products in cans are being shipped to 14 major cities of the Florida peninsula for distribution by RC bottlers.

"The other new domestic facility now under construction in Granite City, Ill., is a flavor-ingredient manufacturing center and canning plant."

"This new facility, being built to better serve RC and Nehi bottlers throughout the western and midwestern states, is scheduled to begin production in early 1961."

Rams Ride 4-Game Streak, Beat Breese Quintet 63-56

Lincoln of Venice will put its four-game winning streak on the line tomorrow night when it meets the potent St. Louis Rams quintet on the Rams' home grounds.

Captain Stan Lynch's boys, fresh from a 63-56 victory over Breese Tuesday and an 80-70 win over Marquette last Saturday, will be up against superior height, a furious fast break and some fancy shooting talent.

Summer, which has lost only one game in 17 encounters this season, downed Lincoln 71-65 on Dec. 13. It is a top-rated team in St. Louis.

Lynch's boys, also well regarded, bounced back in the last half at Breese Tuesday to force their fourth straight, but the Lincoln coach was not satisfied with his team's shooting performance.

He attributes the below-par shooting to "too much practice and too much idleness." His team has played only five games in the last seven weeks.

Have Won 7 Of 8 But the Rams seem to be doing well, and have won seven of their last eight games.

Thomas Hall continues to be the top scorer among area hoopers and added to his point total, chipping in 25 points and leading his team in a third-quarter rally Tuesday.

The Rams trailed 31-26 at halftime and caught Breese back at way in the third quarter. A last-half press by Lincoln had beaten down a Breese scoring surge, and enabled the Rams to hold a slim 49-48 lead when the fourth quarter began.

Overcome Pressing Defense They widened the gap, and Breese failed to get within striking distance. Breese had pressed the entire game, but this had an effect only in the first quarter, which ended 17-0.

Lincoln sank 13 of 22 free throws.

Other scoring — Charles Hatter, 16; Robert Chavis, 13; Earl Crawford, 15; Archie Taylor, 21; Henry Rice, 1 and John Marchbank, 1.

Ritenour Among Opponents GC Matmen Set New Record With Shutout Over Flyers; 3 Scheduled Meets Remain

Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt's Granite City high school varsity wrestling squad had an easy time of it Tuesday evening. East St. Louis was the Warriors' picked up their eighth straight dual victory, but the caliber of future competition is causing Schmitt some worry.

The GCIS grapplers won all 12 bouts from the Flyers, boosted their season mark to 13-1 and established a new Granite City record by scoring their fourth shutout in the course of a single season, 52-0.

Schmitt is not unduly worried about the next opponent, although Granite City will not meet heavily the Jacksonville squad when the two teams meet in Jacksonville Friday at 5 p.m., but two following opponents appear sure to test the GCIS ranking as a prep wrestling power in these parts.

Ritenour Here Saturday The first is Ritenour high school, a St. Louis school which has won the Missouri state title for the past 13 years in a row. Ritenour will call here at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Coached by John Moore, the squad is called "well-balanced" by Schmitt, and includes three individual Missouri state champions from 1959-60. Bob Gulliams at 112 pounds, Bill Kaller at 127 and Bill Hartzell at 180.

Hartzell owns an undefeated string that stretches back over the better part of two years.

Won 24-15 Earlier the Warriors also reported to be extremely strong in the 120 and 135-pound classes. The Warriors won 24-15 in the two schools' only meeting last spring, with an interesting sidelight of the meet being that there was not a single pin registered.

Thomas Hatter won their regular season in Wood River, next Tuesday when they meet the Oilers for the second time this year. Wood River gave Granite City its toughest test of any Northwestern conference school here on Dec. 16, before the visitors lost 32-15.

A GCIS victory would clinch the SWC title again for Schmitt's squad, which is undefeated in the league.

GC Hosts District Granite City will be the location of the district wrestling tournament on Feb. 10-11, and pairings will be announced early next week.

The Warriors are defending district and sectional tourney champions. The sectional is scheduled for Feb. 18 in Wood River.

Tuesday's results against East St. Louis: 85 — Tom Tindell (GC) pinned Nate Sloan in 5:25, 103 — Larry Reynolds (GC) pinned Bob Wodchek in 5:50, 112 — Eddie Taylor (GC) pinned Gary Peel in 5:05, 130 — Tom Vasiloff (GC) defeated Ken Zinn, 9-1.

127 — Roger Bloodworth (GC) defeated Ron Glass 5-1, 138 — Buddy Fekshin (GC) pinned Wayne Alkridge in 2:21, 138 — Sam Fazio (GC) defeated Gary Zinn 2-1, 145 — Eldon Poles (GC) pinned Ron Green in 1:59, 154 — Bob Cruise (GC) pinned Jim Foley in 3:55, 165 — Charles Hatter (GC) defeated Ted Morris 7-2, 180 — Dennis Petroff (GC) pinned Bill Harrington in 5:19, heavyweight — Bill Hedges (GC) pinned Bill Owen in 3:01.

Braves Are Pressed, But Extend Wrestling Victory Streak To 30

Coolidge Junior high school grapplers literally had their hands full here Tuesday night, but managed to come off best in a dual meet with Riverview Gardens of St. Louis, 27-21.

The team victory, No. 30 in succession for the Braves and a record for the school, was in doubt until after the individual 165-pound class competition had been completed.

At that point Bob Moske's squad led 24-11, and when Gary Forshee decided Riverview Gardens' Fred Silver it was in the bag. Tuesday's visitors outdid the Braves in the number of pins, however, 3-2.

Prather JHS calls at Coolidge today at 4:30 p.m. In an earlier meeting, Coolidge scored a 56-0 shutout victory.

Tuesday's Coolidge-Riverview Gardens match results: 95 — Richard Bleske (C) defeated Jerry Dreimier 5-0, 103 — Dan King (C) pinned Rick Gorgias in 5:53, 112 — Roger Taylor (C) pinned Steve Shaw in 4:50, 120 — Gary McGahey (C) defeated Don Norman 5-0.

127 — Frank Maxfield (C) defeated Buddy Saeettele 14-0, 138 — Pete Tegel (C) won by forfeit, 145 —

Bill Skowron of the Yankees finished 11th in American League slugfest last season with a .528 mark.

Don Duffie (RG) defeated John Leve 3-1.

154 — Don Muck (RG) defeated Ron Schaefer 5-0, 165 — Gary Forshee (C) defeated Fred Siver 8-1, 180 — Mike Steizlein (RG) pinned Wayne Brewer in 5:00, heavyweight — Pat Griffin (RG) pinned John Nemeth in 5:30.

Farm Column

By FRUMAN W. MAY
Madison County Farm Adviser

Attendance at the area Dairy Day at Highland last week was 160, although the day was the coldest of the winter so far and many dairymen were reluctant to leave their herds in the zero temperatures.

The dairymen attending were greatly interested in the discussions and exhibits presented by speakers from the dairy department of the University of Illinois. Here are just a few items from the discussions:

When the quality of roughage is low, the most serious problem is getting cows to consume enough roughage. Since they seldom consume enough of the low-quality roughage, the problem is supplementing such roughage to supply both protein and energy.

Low-quality corn silage will need to be supplemented first with protein and second with energy. Low-quality hay will need to be supplemented first with energy and second with protein.

To supplement for energy, ground shelled corn is an excellent source. To supplement for protein, soybean oil meal is excellent.

Silage made from corn planted with a grain drill produced some interesting results. When the corn was harvested early, before ears had formed, the yield was 25.7 tons of green material per acre containing 18.25% of dry matter. This was equal to more than 4 tons of dry matter per acre.

When the crop was harvested at a later stage, after some ears had formed, the yield was 18.4 tons of green material per acre containing 34.5% of dry matter. This was equal to more than 6 tons of dry matter per acre.

Protein may be obtained from a wide variety of products. Some of them are soybean oil meal, linseed oil meal, cottonseed meal, peanut meal, commercial protein supplements, tankage and urea.

Research indicates that dairy cows can utilize almost any source of protein. What source to use should be determined by the cost per pound of protein.

In Illinois the need for any special mineral supplement other than calcium, phosphorus and iodized salt has not been demonstrated. Excessive amounts of certain minerals, such as copper and cobalt, may be toxic.

Purchase of mineral mixture should generally be based on the cost of calcium and phosphorus. Farm grains should be ground medium-fine for mature dairy cows. Grinding too fine costs more and may actually lower the consumption of also the nutritive value of certain feeds.

Calves do not need ground feed as much as older cattle do, as they can do a better job of chewing.

Good growth and early calving are essential for maximal lifetime production. On the average, an increase of 100 pounds in body weight can mean an increase of 500 to 700 pounds of milk per lactation.

Mastitis in dairy cows is commonly the result of the combined effects of infection and mismanagement. Milking machines that are improperly adjusted and in poor condition, in addition, combined with careless usage, help to pave the way for mastitis.

The most important factor in good milking is proper attitude. It should be remembered that milking is not a "chore" but the most productive time spent on a dairy farm. It is at milking time that the investment in the dairy enterprise, all the feed and labor marketed through the cow, is harvested.

The first serious case of "lobber" in a dairy herd in Madison county was reported a couple of weeks ago. Soon after the feeding of silage from stubble cover was started, the cows went off feed and milk production dropped by about half.

Dairy scientist John Byers of the University of Illinois warns dairymen who feed second cuttings of red clover and alfalfa hay or silage this winter to watch for signs of excessive salivation, or slobbering, in their herds.

During the past few years dairymen from all parts of the state have reported that cows in their herds began slobbering within 1 to 24 hours after eating second cuttings of affected forage.

In all cases the animals ate one to three feedings of the "slobber" forage, salivated excessively and then refused to eat any more. Many dairymen said it was not uncommon to find 2 to 3 inches of saliva in mangers after cows ate the forage.

Byers says it's important that dairymen who find affected hay report it to the U. I. department of dairy science or the farm adviser. Researchers are working to solve the problem. The key to their success will depend on getting samples of the hay as soon as it is discovered.

Two Caught After Robbing Motorist Near Mitchell

The Mitchell area was the scene of an armed robbery Monday evening, and the victim's report to county authorities led to capture of two 17-year-old St. Louis youths a short time later in Edwardsville.

Edwardsville police identified the prisoners as Robert Lee Moore, an absent-without-leaves soldier, and Eddie Douglas Umfress. They were held at the county jail in lieu of $5000 bonds after waiting preliminary hearings and being bound over to the grand jury on armed robbery charges.

Their victim, Shelby Evans, Hartford, related that he picked up the two on the north side of the Chain of Rocks Bridge while returning from St. Louis. He added that they said they were from Alabama and were heading for Chicago, a he agreed to let them off on bypass 66 at the point in Illinois where he normally turns off it.

When the auto approached the Mitchell area, Moore brandished a revolver and instructed him to continue onward, Evans said. He suggested that they let him out and take the 1964 auto, and this was done after he was ordered to turn onto the Old Alton road and drive for about a mile, authorities were informed.

His leather gloves were taken and his money, $1, was removed from his billfold, which was then thrown back to him, he related. Ordering him to walk straight ahead, the burglar loaded a car, turned around and headed for Bypass 66 again, he said. Once the car was out of sight, Evans located a telephone and reported the incident at 7:15 p.m. Monday.

Police noticed the pair on South Main street, Edwardsville, about an hour later and searched them, allegedly finding a loaded .38-caliber revolver in a leather holster under Moore's jacket. Umfress led them to the car parked on Scott street. The two were identified by Evans at the Edwardsville police station prior to their transfer to the county jail.

but the agency has not yet taken action on the recommendation.

Cites Border Problems
Dr. Lee told the gathering that communities on the borders of other states have special problems due to collection of sales taxes on local purchases, but limiting of the use tax on out-of-state buying to motor vehicles.

With this problem already existing, Illinois business firms could be damaged further if a new transit system failed to serve local shopping districts adequately, but instead was designed to channel residents of all sections of the metropolitan area into downtown St. Louis, the Venice official said.

Noting that the proposal involves elimination of most taxes currently paid by transportation companies, Mayor Maeras said, "Any time this happens, somebody has to make up the difference in taxes. This would be Mr. John Q. Public, and he is being taxed heavily already."

No Petition Procedure
The mayor said he would like for the proponents of the plan to be identified, and warned that the public would have no recourse by a petition for referendum, although 5% to 8% of the number voting in the last city election can seek a public vote on city revenue bond issues.

"Members of the Southwestern Council of Mayors say there have been few complaints about present bus service," Maeras said. "There may be some people who would rather not wait as long as they have to for a bus, but I am sure the companies would like to expand their service on any routes where it improves permits."

"Private companies could improve their service if their aid, valorem, income, franchise, capital stock and other taxes were alleviated, as under public ownership. This would be the difference between making a profit or not making a profit. With public ownership, they would still have to make money to pay off the bonds and interest."

Other Opinions
Swanson Mayor Thomas Kinella said the plan could cause a loss of business in Illinois communities outside O'Fallon, Mo. Mayor Mort Jacobs said, "I would like for business to remain in my city, but there are hundreds there who want to come to downtown St. Louis every day and I think this is the best way to go about it."

Wellston, Mo., City Counselor William J. Becker described the Bi-State agency as the "only existing" organization "that can take over in this emergency. Leaders in the city and county recognize the only solution for a rapid transit system is public ownership."

R. Gilman Smith, a partner in the firm that made the engineering study, said Bi-State is the "logical organization" to operate a unified metropolitan transit system.

GC Schools' Handbook Sets Out 'Birching' Pros, Cons

A thorny problem in out of today's classrooms is that of corporal punishment, a question supplied with a direct answer in the little red schoolhouse days when most teachers followed the rule of the ancient adage, "spank the rod and spare the child."

Is corporal punishment the right or improper approach to the schools' disciplinary problems? A storm of controversy has been whipped up around the issue.

Court rulings and judicial decisions on punishment of pupils by teachers have made many headlines, and there appears to be a distinct cleavage of opinion among parents. Pupils' viewpoints on the matter need to be noted, are held as somewhat biased and not entirely objective.

Perhaps there is no definitive, satisfactory answer to all situations where a teacher or school administrator is tempted to resort to the birch stick of classical antiquity. However, the advantages and disadvantages of corporal punishment are given in a 40-page "Guidance in the Elementary School," issued as a handbook, teachers' compendium and guide by the Granite City public school system.

This mimeographed guide covers a multiplicity of issues as regards teacher-pupil and teacher-parent relationships and, in a forward, its general aim and design is set thusly:

"This manual was prepared for the purpose of providing basic aid to all school personnel who are responsible for the welfare of children in the elementary schools. It represents the ideas and plans that teachers generally consider when teaching elementary pupils."

Purpose Of Grade School
"In general, the purpose of the elementary school is to guide every child that he may have those living and learning experiences which will enable him to become a responsible, contributing citizen. Therefore, guidance is simply helping the individual help himself."

The guidance manual is separated into four parts under the general headings: "Need, Nature and Responsibility of Guidance in the Elementary School," "Understanding Children," "Learning About Individuals in Solving a Knotty Problem and Mainly to help the educator assist the child in advancing along the pathway of childhood norms.

In a wealth of data, the guidebook likewise takes up the always unpleasant problem of dealing with pupils who steal, who lie and who cheat.

Here's a sampling of the possible causes and suggested treatment of the child who steals with the treatment detailed following the statement of probable cause:

1. Actual need or strong drive for foods, toys, or money for specific things — Provide necessities or ways in which child may meet reasonable wants legitimately.

2. Child steals to gain prestige of his group, either by giving them gifts or by showing bravado — Help child to belong to the group and gain recognition and response of friends by legitimate means.

Shock Aspect
Under advantages, one finds: 1. Shock aspect may inhibit persistent behavior. 2. Immediate action may be needed to prevent damage or harm to the child or to others. 3. It may be the only type of discipline unobtainable by other means because of previous experiences.

The disadvantages of the application of the paddle: 1. Emotionally disturbing to the child because it humiliates him, stimulates his anger and revengeful feelings, or causes anxiety and tension. 2. Because of the emotion involved, it attaches great significance to behavior which may be unimportant. 3. Disturbs the friendly relationship between the adult and the child. 4. Doesn't affect real causes of behavior.

5. It demonstrates anger pattern to the child so he may use the same technique on other children or his own child when he grows up. 6. Logical consequences of behavior are not understood since the punishment depends upon the adult detection and displeasure.

Aid To Teachers
School Supt. Harold M. Kaiser, under whose general supervision the guidance manual was prepared, says that this balancing of advantages and disadvantages in this situation, and many others, is presented solely to assist the classroom teacher and administrators in solving many a knotty problem and mainly to help the educator assist the child in advancing along the pathway of childhood norms.

approach to the grammar school youngster who cheats. Here are the possible causes, followed by suggested treatment:

1. The task is too difficult — Simply task so that success is assured with reasonable effort.

Realistic Standards
2. Parent, teacher, or child standards are too high — Adjust standards to realistic expectations.

3. Parent, teacher, or child has placed a premium on marks or grades rather than on understanding — Discontinue the use of marks, grades or extrinsic rewards. Emphasize understanding and methods rather than right answers.

4. Child feels inadequate or insecure in many situations — Increase unobtrusive supervision. Minimize opportunities for cheating.

There are the following causes:

1. Child steals for revenge — Help him to understand himself. Provide opportunities for legitimate release of emotions in play, art or music. Give the child more affection both at home and at school.

2. Rejection by parents or by teachers may lead to hostile attitudes and their expression through stealing — Remove opportunities for stealing and increase supervision. Give the child a method of restitution without public embarrassment.

Following the same format as regards the pupil prone to falsehoods, here are some pointers of the public school manual:

1. Child lies to excuse himself because consequences of behavior are humiliating or punitive — Plan so that consequences of behavior will help the child gain insight into cause and effect rather than being severely punitive.

Tail Tales
2. Exaggerated stories or tall tales are attempts to build prestige with other children or adults — Help child gain legitimate response from friends and adults.

3. Pupil lies to make a dull life more exciting or dramatic — Give child more opportunities for adventure and excitement.

4. Lies are an effort to place blame on a person who is disliked or of whom the child is jealous — Improve the relationship or eliminate the possibilities of friction.

Then, there's the psychological

2 Small Children Treated For Accidents At Home

Two small children were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital yesterday for minor injuries. Christopher Dortch, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Dortch, 2425 Washington avenue, was treated at 5:15 p.m. for a severe bruise on his left eye and bruised.

Fifteen-month-old Brenda Gerkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Gerkin, 1911 Lynn avenue, received two stitches on her forehead after falling at home at 7 p.m.

Public mention may destroy the child's self-esteem and develop hostility and discouragement. Teachers should recognize the fact that all people, both adults and children, may cheat under certain circumstances. The conditions rather than the child are usually at fault.

10 Attend State Convention Of Home Bureau

The 37th annual meeting of the Illinois Home Bureau Federation was held Tuesday and Wednesday in the university auditorium, University of Illinois, Urbana, with ten Home Bureau members from Granite City attending.

In a business meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium, Madison county again led the state in the largest number of delegates attending, with 41. There are 47,637 home bureau members in the state, with Madison county accounting for 862 of these and being the eighth largest in members in the state.

A banquet was held Tuesday evening in the Illini Union ballroom, with Dr. Donald Brieland of Chicago as guest speaker. Dr. Brieland is executive director of the Elizabeth McCormick Memorial Fund of Chicago, a foundation established in 1908 by Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick Jr. in memory of their daughter, Elizabeth.

Dr. Brieland reported on research his organization has made on adolescents in the last decade, stating that leadership is developed early in some and this means an early separation of home ties, since the naturally gifted leader tends to become the center of his social world.

He said that parents need to encourage leadership and at the same time expect some rejection. He added that the youth of today are maturing faster because they have to, in order to keep up with the "jet" age. This causes problems which some are better equipped to handle than others, but given time and understanding the seemingly slower ones will catch up, he commented.

A membership meeting was held Wednesday morning in the Smith Music Hall, during which goals for 1961 were outlined. The goal set was 90% maintenance and 10% membership. Wayne county was awarded a plaque for the largest gain in membership and also the highest percentage of maintenance of membership.

Home Bureau members attending included: from the Granite City unit, Mrs. Genevieve Hill, Mrs. Vera Carey, Mrs. Betty Holt, Mrs. Alma Backman, Mrs. Charlotte Temple and Mrs. Ann Fare; Trio unit, Mrs. Clara Schilling; and the Isabel Bevier unit, Mrs. Irene Davies, Mrs. Helen Curvar and Mrs. Vyvienne Durbin.

Miss Deterding Gives Program For Garden Club

A program on "House Plants" was given by Miss Luella Deterding at a meeting of the Garden Study Club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. F. Reiss, 2655 State street. The club members responded to roll call with the names of their favorite plants and discussed them. The speaker was presented by Mrs. Arthur Roman, program chairman.

The hostess served a dessert luncheon to 18 members before the meeting which was presided over by Mrs. John Lehman, vice president. A short memorial service was held for a recently deceased member, Miss Sue Erwin, and announcement was made of the eighth annual meeting of District Five Garden Clubs to be held at St. Peter Evangelical & Reformed Church, 21st street and Cleveland blvd., Feb. 23. Each member was asked to enter one arrangement.

Ms. William Kirchner, the incoming program chairman, reported on plans for the coming season, including the annual plant sale in April and the flower show in May, the dates to be set later.

The March 1 club meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. August Theis on Old Alton road.

Past Presidents Club Meets

The Past Presidents Club of Aunt Becky Young Tent 92, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, was entertained last night in the home of Mrs. Irene Haug, 2419 Delmar avenue.

Mrs. Joyce Powderly was in charge, and after a brief business discussion games were enjoyed with prizes going to Mrs. Letha Githoff and Mrs. Irma Taylor.

Valentine appointments were used and refreshments were served to 10 members. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Violet Kassaubaum, 1728 Madison avenue.

MRS. SAM MEYER IS CLUB HOSTESS

Mrs. Sam Meyer, 2437 Cleveland blvd., entertained members of a card club Monday. Luncheon was served before the games and honors went to Mrs. E. E. Veihl and the hostess.

Mrs. Irby Todd, 1618 Lindell blvd., will serve as hostess to the group at the next meeting.

Bid Opening Feb. 21 On City-Fire Hall Project

Bids will be opened at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 21, on a project which would result in larger quarters for the Madison fire and police departments and municipal offices. The opening will take place at the city comptroller's office in the Madison city hall.

The work is to include construction of new police facilities in the present fire garage, and installation of city offices where the police are now located. The bid will clear the upper floor of the city hall for possible future use as a courtroom.

The Firemen's Hall adjacent to the city hall is to be deeded over to the city by the Madison fire company, with the city then remodeling it to house the fire department, currently on the ground floor of the city hall.

All they need do is to come to the studio and register.

By DOUG MILES

Music Commentator

This weekend, Feb. 3-4, promises to be one of the most exciting periods in the lives of many Madison county families. It promises to be exciting because it can mean a new way of life — full of harmony, fun and relaxation.

Jack Johnson is holding an open house this Friday and Saturday at his beautiful new Thomas Studio of Organs otherwise known as JOHNSON MUSIC STUDIO.

A 10 lesson course on the Thomas Organ will be offered free to every adult and child who walks through the doors this weekend — including every member of the family.

JOHNSON MUSIC is equipped with 10 new Thomas Organs and is staffed by three music instructors who will conduct continuous classes to the public at no cost or obligation whatever!

Here is a chance for you and your children to begin a hobby that will help overcome the tensions of modern living — and play right along yourself.

Through creative self-expression, you can find peace of mind, which is the key to a successful and happy life. And what better time than summer vacation to start your children on the road to happiness through music?

Learning to play the Thomas Organ is so simple. Mr. Johnson's experienced staff will have you playing tunes the very first evening.

They'll show you how to lead your own symphony — conducting the Thomas Organ in sounds that resemble a flute, banjo, piano, cello, violin and many other instruments.

Here is the perfect chance to develop creative ability in your children — and play right along yourself.

There is no charge for lessons, no obligation to purchase a beautiful Thomas Organ — you do not even have to own an organ. All that JOHNSON MUSIC requires is that you have a desire for a more harmonious way of life.

JOHNSON MUSIC will be open Friday 9 to 9 and Saturday 9 to 6. The address is 1820 Edison. The telephone number is TITangle 6-3080.

Word has been received that the Madison plant of the Dow Metal Products Co. has been singled out for the initial award on the basis of its 1960 safety performance, as compared to the four previous years.

Announcement of the award was made by H. H. Lyon, plant manager, and Frank Mansfield, assistant plant manager to whom safety leaders report.

Well Ahead Of Other Plants In a message to local employees, Lyon commented that the award "means many things to us."

YMCA Service Only One Of Many Civic Activities By Hoelscher

Not one but two silver anniversaries are being observed by G. W. Hoelscher, who has completed 25 years as secretary-manager of the East Side Manufacturers Association and a like number of years as president of the board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association.

His tenure as YMCA president is receiving special attention because of his decision to step down as its 25th term ends. To say that the position has been an easy one would be incorrect, because the "Y" has been plagued by a variety of problems, most of them financial, since 1936. But a good test of performance is the result, and the YMCA today is a thriving center providing up-to-date facilities for recreation, physical training, social activities and meetings, as well as rooms for tenants.

While Hoelscher also devotes much time to his professional duties, there are few who give as tirelessly of themselves to civic betterment programs. His participation on boards of education, citizen study and planning groups and countless committees and fund-raising groups highlights not only his own record but the community's history for the past quarter-century and more.

It has been said that "the highest of distinctions is service to others." By this standard or any other, G. W. "Gus" Hoelscher is one of the Quad-Cities' most distinguished citizens.

State Consolidation Plan Could Bring Further School Economy

This community and county can look with favor on the Illinois School Problems Commission's proposal that over 800 of the present 1800 school districts be eliminated by 1965. Since state funds help finance school operation, and economies could result from weeding out districts that are too small, local taxpayers stand to benefit.

It will be recalled that most of the feasible consolidations in Madison county already have been carried out, the number of districts being trimmed to 15 in the early 1950s. This number may be similar to the total in other counties, but it is more justified here than elsewhere due to the density of population.

The plan sent to the state legislature would empower county superintendents beginning in 1964 to establish unit and high school districts of at least 250 students and elementary districts of at least 200 enrollment. Elections could be held if petitions were not filed to change district boundaries. It is believed that 683 elementary and 134 high school districts would be affected.

The legislature rejected a plan to stimulate consolidations at its last session, but its economy considerations seem destined to receive increasing attention. Certainly, the experience in Madison county has been that education improved after finances and district size were placed on sounder footing.

Danger Of Improvident State Spending Cited By Governor

"We are in the position of the improvident housewife unable to properly balance her budget because she has spent too much too early," Gov. Otto Kerner says in summing up the state financial outlook. "Unless the state pulls its belt in severely, we may face some payless paydays come May 1961," he adds.

The governor cites two separate problems in urging state legislative action: making ends meet between now and the end of the present biennium June 30, and providing revenue needed for the next two-year fiscal period ending June 30, 1963.

There is no doubt that state financing is regarded as a serious problem by the new administration, even though it has plans to trim off services and personnel found to be unnecessary. But it is interesting to note that state income has been increasing due to sales, liquor and cigarette tax boosts and other factors, such as new audit and data-processing systems.

Direct taxes collected by the state totaled $681,484,757 in the 1960 calendar year, an increase of nearly $60,000,000 over the $621,733,725 netted during 1959. This does not include $2,250,000 earned in 1960 as a 4% fee for administering the city sales tax and $182,000 derived from 6% of the county sales tax.

Though a good case can be made for a substantial increase in spending, to live up to present commitments and to meet future needs, it is to remember the "housewife" urged by the governor. She may persuade her "husband"—the voters and taxpayers—to provide some additional funds, but in the final analysis she must learn to live within her income.

No Justification For Driver To Hit And Run

Hit-and-run traffic mishaps are never justifiable, and they are particularly reprehensible where pedestrians are involved, as in two weekend cases here.

Time is an important element in caring for the injured, and motorists who speed away may be signing a death warrant for their victims, who could remain for long periods before being found and given treatment. Cold weather also must be considered, as shown by the death from exposure of a Granite City man after a tire blowout had halted his car.

A driver responsible for an accident is, at worst, guilty of criminal negligence; such convictions are rare, and the charge is usually less severe. But when flight is added to the charges—the motorist usually is located, anyway—the offense and punishment are much worse.

Each vehicle operator should drive with care to avoid hitting a person, auto or other property. But when an accident occurs, each should have enough respect for the law and human life to stop, render aid and give a full report to authorities.

CITY GOVERNMENT CAN SET TAXATION EXAMPLE

By C. E. Townsend, Editor Granite City Press-Record

Granite City, Ill. (Press-Record Staff Writer)

Dear Mr. Townsend:

Granted, taxation is necessary. It is generally felt that it is not permitted to reach the point of a wearisome burden for the people of Granite City or of the United States, for that matter. Federal and State revenue systems have become inextricably and overlappingly entangled in the middle of the big picture. This raises the question. Can anything be done about it in Granite City? I believe it can be cured in some measure.

There have been many good opinions and suggestions in Washington, D. C., by both Democrats and Republicans. However, it is generally felt that increasing demands for services, loans and grants from all counties are a very decisive factor in the search for additional revenue, rather than a tax reduction.

Administrative costs run very high; and I shall refer to our national debt. In January 19, 1961, whereby the State of Illinois paid the Federal Government $180 through income tax for each dollar received through grants and loans. It doesn't make much sense when facts and figures are known, especially when we take a look at our national debt. In order to progress as our City of Granite City must certainly, it is imperative that we strengthen the groundwork of our economy. The people of our area will be glad to cooperate in any plan to cross the line of unity of purpose and honest intent.

It would like to see our city come forth with a program of no tax increase. Careful spending, an all-important team work at City Hall should result in minor indebtedness without curbing any of our services. Our community could set an example for other cities to follow. As a nation, we are fortunate. We have always set the pace on an international level. In 1961, surely we do no less for our own country.

Sincerely Yours,
LILY P. CHARBOUE

GERMAN STORY OF MAN AND WHEELBARROW

Forum of the Press-Record

Dear Corky:

I found in a newspaper from my old home town such a nice story that I translated it to the best of my ability into English. The original I have here at home. It is headed: "Zwanzig Pfennige über Tarif." (Twenty pennies above the scale.)

A laborer and a wheelbarrow. That's a unit of labor. A laborer means so and so many cubic feet of sand, or so many cubic feet of gravel, or so many cubic feet of earth, loaded it, not only to the truck to the building-site. Or, he could be a laborer in the figure. The one walks fast, the other slow, one fills to the top, the other only half. One has his mind on a woman, the other on his job. That's how the little differences are created. But by ten wheelbarrows, ten laborers and ten working-hours this will straighten itself out and equals a Norm.

We had one especially diligent laborer on our job. It was a joy to see that fellow working. He ran with his wheelbarrow like a wheel, loaded it, not only to the truck, but even piled it up in the center of it. He actually was doing the work of two. Tireless he ran with his heavy wheelbarrow from the gravel-pile to the building site, fully loaded to and empty back. Didn't take time out for a smoke or a stretch of his muscles, not even stopped to wipe his nose or the sweat off his forehead. Only once in a while he spit in his hands so the work would go at a faster pace just. One could see, just looking at him, how he enjoyed to work.

The superintendent saw him work and said to the foreman: "What a specimen of a fellow." The best worker I have," the foreman replied. How much do you pay him? The superintendent said, the prevailing wage scale, like I pay the others, said the foreman. Should we not better raise his hourly pay? "Not a bad idea," the foreman said. I am going to raise his hourly rate twenty pennies above the scale. Now Friday evening was payday. The foreman kept this diligent worker, who wanted to give the twenty pennies raise, until all the other workers had left, and he said to him: "I have been watching you work for quite some time now, Joe and must say that Readers are invited to contribute to this column. Name and address must be given each communication but identity of author will not be revealed if anonymity is requested. Letters should be 250 words or less.

I am very satisfied with your work. Therefore I have decided to raise your hourly pay twenty pennies above the prevailing rate, out of my own free will because you are my best worker. Now the laborer asked in surprise, "Yes, as of now I am going to pay you twenty pennies more an hour than in the past. I know you earn it," said the foreman.

The laborer gave the foreman an angry, disapproving look and told him in no uncertain terms: "There we can see again, for giving me a raise, you have always money available, but I pay bigger wheelbarrows. I haven't got any money available for. I am going to quit as of now and next week I am going to see that I get a job at the other building-site around the corner. They may not be getting as much money as I do here, but they have at least bigger wheelbarrows, that I know for sure."

The story in the German newspaper does not say what year it was, when that happened. Take it for what it is worth.

Thank you,
Joe Keuenhoff

SUGGESTS 'WALK' SIGNALS FOR PEDESTRIANS

As we all know we have had two way traffic regulated down town. Did this help the traffic problem? I as well as other taxpayers don't think so.

I'm not criticizing our police dept. because they are doing a good job trying to control this problem. They can't do it alone. It's up to our city to make better means.

The traffic wasn't as bad with one way traffic. People now have a greater problem crossing streets. I talked with a lot of people and they criticize the downtown traffic problem. Persons told they waited on the corner of 20th and Edison till the light changed 6 times before they could cross. I as well as others think this problem should be studied and something done. Some kind of a short walk signal should be installed at the most critical crossings to help and protect pedestrians. This may be costly, but it's cheaper than getting someone hurt.

POINTS TO LOW TAX RATE RECORD OF FORMER MAYOR

Editor and Publisher

Granite City Press-Record

Granite City, Illinois

Dear Sir:

I look on the inside at the City Hall and a better look at our tax bills will convince anyone that Mayor Davis has established a GRAY TRAIN and is DISKING OVER THE GRAY.

Our "Tax Dollars" in every conceivable manner he and his political boss can think of.

This writer has served as an Alderman with three previous Mayors (Kilpatrick, Grant, Moerlein) and never have I seen such spending as we have under Mayor Davis.

A review of the record will show that under Mayor Moerlein's Administration we had the lowest city tax rate that we have had in the last twenty years. Mr. Moerlein could not be pressured by any group, political or otherwise, to spend the taxpayers' money to build a political machine such as we have under Mayor Davis.

Let us not be led astray any more by the paid (Out of Your Tax Dollars) election workers who are just doing the bidding of a political boss. It seems to me that each of us as individual citizens should concentrate our support to the most capable candidate, a man with a RECORD OF GOOD SERVICE to the citizens of Granite City. A MAN WITH A HEART FOR THE HOME OWNER and that man is NONE OTHER THAN CHARLES W. MOERLEIN.

Sincerely,
Robert Rhodes
Former Alderman
Granite City

the time the Constitution was signed, such men as Lincoln have led this Nation to the best of their ability, and with the help of the people have maintained a free nation. The early leaders, knowing they weren't infallible, looked toward the masses for help and received it. One and all contributed to help America grow. This is UNITY. This was one of the great characteristics of America and the one mostly depleted.

It is the "We" of today that are causing this depletion. People have lost the American tradition of unity. The unity needed to keep a more perfect union. Today, complaint has taken the place of action and criticism the place of doing. The people in this country can be classified into three groups: citizens, aliens and hypocrites. The first two classes are legal classifications, which only a small percentage fall in. The majority of us are in the third class—a mass of individuals looking for personal gain.

SAYS AMERICA NEEDS UNITY OR PROBLEMS

"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union," is an excerpt known to all. The word "We" as used in this phrase didn't mean just the farmers of the Constitution, it meant the populace. It meant the people Jefferson, Franklin, and Hancock were representing. These men had no intention of being tyrannical or dictatorial; rather, they saw the tremendous job that had to be done and took the lead. From

Rev. Hilliard Griffin, of Tulsa, Okla., former pastor of the First Assembly of God Church in Granite City, will present films of his mission to Africa and the Orient tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday nights at the City Temple, 1817 State street.

Rev. Griffin, director of literature evangelism for Oral Roberts, has recently completed a trip around the world.

Accompanying him were his wife, and a five-member youth team. The team visited 25 countries, and conducted 203 services before more than 217,000 persons.

The success of the youth team has prompted Rev. Griffin to draft a program for use in future world tours.

His proposal calls for an exchange program between American youths and foreign youths. Two-man youth teams would serve in specific areas abroad and foreign students would be instructed in the United States in evangelism and returned to their homelands with literature for distribution among their people.

The foreign youths would undergo training at the Oral Roberts' school of evangelism.

The plan is also aimed at sending evangelism experts to foreign Bible colleges.

Red Brainwashing of POWs Shown in Talk

Methods and effects of communists brainwashing of United States prisoners of war during the Korean conflict were demonstrated Monday night in a recorded talk before the Twilight Optimist Club at the Rose Bowl restaurant.

The taped recording, presented by Harlan Dobey, secretary of the Twilight Chamber of Commerce, was made by Dr. William G. Mayer, a former U. S. troops who had been subjected to the treatment at Red prison camps.

Dr. Mayer, at the time, was chief psychiatrist at an army hospital, and had compared the talk for use before an automobile industrial organization meeting in Detroit, Mich.

The interviews revealed the moral responsibility of the prisoners had been beaten down through kindness and fear.

The talk pointed out that the psychological treatment had been effective in removing a sense of loyalty from the prisoners and caused them to betray their fellow inmates by either informing on them or refusing to take action against some extreme abuses.

More than 40% of the prisoners died in the camps, the talk pointed out, indicating that those who were reluctant to "cooperate" were starved or used as example cases.

The taped talk was heard by 28 members.

In the business session, the Optimists set the date for a Valentine's dance for Feb. 18 at the Rose Bowl, where dancing and a buffet supper will be held.

Also, the group was invited to attend a breakfast meeting at the First Presbyterian Church, 22nd street and Delmar avenue, to hear an address by Bishop Pillai, of India, who is pastor of an Eastern Orthodox Church there.

The talk will be held at 7 a.m. Feb. 7, and is sponsored by the Presbyterian Men's Council, of the church. It will deal with the customs, phrases and traditions of the religion.
